Start Date:

As soon as practical, but no later than Summer 2023

Compensation:

Salary plus annual bonus, participation in 401(k), health and supplemental benefits. Competitive for middle market private equity firms

Job Description:

The Analyst will work closely with all members of the Secondaries team and participate in all aspects of the investment process. Duties will include:

- Assisting in analyzing, structuring, and executing new deal opportunities
- Performing deep-dive analysis on new industries and companies
- Developing financial models for new opportunities and existing investments
- Preparing investor presentations and communication materials for new and existing investors
- Drafting of investment memoranda
- Monitoring and reporting on current portfolio holdings and key investment drivers
- Preparing valuation models and quarterly portfolio reports for internal and external stakeholders

Candidate Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree required, preferably in finance, economics, accounting, or related fields with a strong academic record (Undergraduate candidates must be graduating by Summer 2023)
- 0-2 years of experience in secondaries, private equity, investment banking, or business consulting
- Keen interest in private equity and impact investing
- Intermediate knowledge of Microsoft Excel and PowerPoint
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Self-motivated individual capable of working in a fast-paced team setting
- Team player who will advance the interests of the firm and their colleagues at all times
- Creative thinker who is comfortable in a tight-knit team of professionals, in situations that require flexibility and working independently without full-time direct supervision
